Aid for Hurricane Dorian Victims

Bishop DiMarzio has asked all parishes to take up a voluntary collection on September 21/22 for the victims of Hurricane Dorian in the Bahamas. The need is urgent and our September 21/22 collection envelopes have already been printed. Therefore, we will not be taking up a voluntary collection but we will be making an immediate donation of $1,000.00 from parish funds already on hand.
Bishop DiMarzio also indicated that individuals can make donations by check made payable to the Compostela Fund of the Brooklyn Diocese with the word "Bahamas" in the memo section and mailed directly to:

Note from Fr. Larry

1. Our two observances (the 9 AM Prayer Service for the students of our aligned St. Joseph the Worker Catholic Academy and the 11 AM Memorial Mass) of the September 11, 2019 Anniversary of the 9/11/2001 Terrorist attacks on the World Trade Center and the Pentagon went well. Many thanks to Mrs. Stephanie Germann, our new Academy principal, and to the Academy teachers and staff who assisted her with the Academy prayer service and to the members of the FDNY as well as parish staff and volunteers who helped so much with the Memorial Mass and after-Mass gathering in Shepherds Hall.

2. At our 10:30 AM Family Mass last Sunday (Catechetical Sunday) we gave a special blessing (and our special thanks) to Kathryn Sisto, our Coordinator of Religious Education, and to Maria Camastro, Dianne Larkin, Denia Larios, Katie McAllister, Martha McNulty, Michelle Sisto, Allison Sisto, and Marie Walls who are the volunteer catechists teaching our Religious Education classes to elementary school age children in our parish who attend public or non-Catholic private schools. If you know of any children in our parish who should be attending RE classes but are not, please encourage their parents to get in touch with Mrs. Sisto right away.

3. Last weekend was our second sign-up weekend for the Why Catholic? small group faith sharing program that will begin during the first week in October. We thank Alyane Cox, Joe Cox, Agnes Hui and Bob Burke for speaking about Why Catholic? at our Masses. We will have several new participants for this Fall season. If you are interested in joining them, please contact the Rectory Office or Alayne Cox at acox42@nyc.rr.com.

4. As happens every September we have been announcing opportunities to sign up for many and varied parish and parish-related activities. I would like to draw your attention particularly to the flyer in this weekend's bulletin inviting you to consider if you are called to serve the parish as an Extraordinary Minister of Holy Communion, Lector or Greeter (member of the Hospitality Ministry). These are very important ministries in which we have experienced departures (frequently after many years of service) due to retirements and/or geographical moves. You will be hearing more about this in coming weeks.

Scripture Commentary

Please consider the following commentary on this Sunday's Readings: Reading I: Amos 8:4-7; Reading II: 1 Timothy 2:1-8; Gospel: Luke 16:1-13

"The liturgy's readings today challenge us to view our world through God's eyes. Paul's Letter to Timothy contains valuable advice worthy of deep reflection. Firstly, Paul calls on Timothy, and by extension us, to pray for our leaders so that we may live a peaceful existence. Their authority has one goal: our peaceful existence. Secondly, Paul reminds us that God wills the salvation of all people: 'God our Savior, who wills everyone to be saved and to come to knowledge of the truth.' Finally, as Son of God and Son of Man, Jesus Christ is the only mediator between God and us. Jesus is the one to whom we owe sole allegiance.

The prophet Amos speaks out against those who oppress the poor. Because the poor have no voice, God becomes their advocate. God is the God of the poor.

The Gospel reading continues the prophet's stance as Jesus draws attention to the dishonest use of wealth. This parable is disturbing since at first it appears that Jesus is praising dishonesty when he says, 'I tell you, make friends for yourself with dishonest wealth.' A deeper look at the parable helps us to discover its true meaning. The manager is a smart operator and to save his situation, he makes his master's debtors an offer they cannot refuse and acquires the money his master owed.

Jesus uses this story of the dishonest manager to teach that just as those in our materialistic world work so hard and sacrifice so much, to attain material results that only last a few years, so Jesus' followers should work and sacrifice even more because they have as their goal eternal results. Nothing could be greater than the inheritance promised Jesus' followers so they should be dedicated and willing to sacrifice everything for it."
