A NOTE FROM FR. LARRY

You will be reading this Note in our bulletin for the weekend of Saturday, December 25 (Christmas Day) and Sunday, December 26 (The Feast of the Holy Family). To meet our Bulletin company's early holiday deadline, however, I'm actually writing it on Thursday, December 16. The Christmas flowers just arrived and Cheryl Jablow, the volunteer coordinator of our Environmental Committee, is hard at work arranging them beautifully. Elsewhere in this bulletin, you will see a partial list of those who made donations for these flowers. Additional donors will be included in next weekend's bulletin. We will also make sure that your donations of toys for the Life of Hope Center and the hats and gloves for CHiPS are delivered to those organizations in time for distribution before Christmas.

Due to our early Bulletin deadline, I'll take this opportunity to offer congratulations in advance to Michelle Sisto and Michael Altamura and to their families. Michelle and Michael will be married this Saturday afternoon, December 18, in Holy Name Church.

I hope to see as many of you as possible at our Christmas Eve and Christmas Day Masses, all of which will be in-person in Holy Name of Jesus Church. All Christmas Eve and Christmas Day Masses will also be live-streamed on our parish Facebook page. Please note that, pursuant to Diocesan guidelines, we are following New York State's current masking mandates. Also: Please remember that our Christmas Eve and Christmas Day Second Collections will be for Catholic Charities.

Since some of you will likely see this Bulletin before Christmas, I'll repeat the schedule:

> Christmas Eve - Friday, December 24: 4 p.m.; 5:30 p.m. Family Mass with Pageant; 10 p.m. Spanish Mass; 12 a.m. Midnight Mass (Carols will begin at 11:30 p.m.)
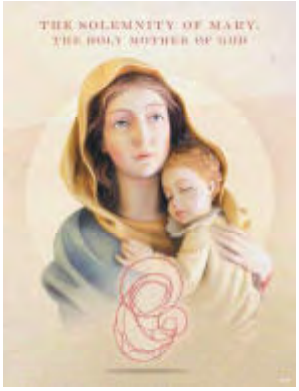
> Christmas Day - Saturday, December 25: Masses at 7:30 a.m. and 12 Noon. Even though it's a Saturday, we will not have a 5:30 p.m. Mass on Christmas Day.

Sunday, December 26, is the Feast of the Holy Family and the Sunday Mass Attendance Obligation will be in effect. Again, please note that we will NOT have a 5:30 p.m. Vigil Mass on Saturday evening, December 25, but our regular Sunday morning Mass schedule of 7:30 a.m., 9 a.m. (Spanish), 10:30 a.m, and 12 Noon will be in effect on Sunday, December 26.

I'll close by once again wishing you and your families a Blessed and Merry Christmas. COVID and its variants remain major concerns. We continue to pray for those who have died and for all who are suffering physically, emotionally, or economically. However, we thank God that our Church and our aligned St. Joseph the Worker Catholic Academy have been able to remain open throughout 2021. I thank you for your support of me and of this parish. I pray that Jesus Christ will come into your lives and hearts in a special way this Holy Season and remain there throughout the coming year with His blessings of peace, love, and hope.



SOLEMNITY OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN MARY, THE MOTHER OF GOD

JANUARY 1 - ROCKING WITH MOTHER MARY

People in every age have their particular way to celebrate the new year. These days we might change old eating habits to be healthier; get on track financially; spend more time with family. But maybe this year it could be about what young Catholics refer to as "rocking with Mary," that is, getting to know the mother of Jesus on a deeper level. Understanding her courage, strength, and faithfulness can help us realize our own potential as bearers of the Good News. On her feast day and in the days ahead, reflect on Mary and strive to imitate her in bringing Good News to the world.

Looking More Closely at the Word

The Open Family

by Father Dennis Hamm, S.J.

As I was driving to Des Moines, Iowa, to give a workshop, the voice on NPR let me know that I was heading for what was, at that moment, the most famous town on earth—the place where Bobbi and Kenny McCaughey had just become the parents of seven children. The four boys and three girls, though in delicate condition because of their prematurity, were all well formed and their prospects good. The public response was vigorous and various. Some imagined the scenario of 35,000 diaper changes before toilet training took effect.

Others focused on clinical dimensions: "For the average consumer it will obscure the downside [of multiple pregnancy]," observed one physician. What came through loud and clear was Bobbi's pro-life choice when the plurality of her pregnancy had been discovered. Presented with the option to "reduce the number of fetuses" in order to avoid the real risk of losing all, she chose to gamble on God. Led by her faith that all life is a gift from God, she chose to carry all seven to term.

In one sense, this sevenfold wonder simply dramatized what is a fact of normal life: any family, even a single mother with one child, participates in a mystery involving them intimately with the Creator and imposes more responsibilities than any of us can fully comprehend and adequately carry out alone.

Luke, in the seventh scene of his introduction to the public life of Jesus, presents an abundant reminder of these dimensions of family and parenting. The account of Jesus lost and found in the Temple is as much a story of the parents as of the child. Mary and Joseph are returning from Jerusalem, having completed the annual pilgrimage to the Holy City for the celebration of Passover. Assuming that twelve-year-old Jesus is safe somewhere in the caravan of relatives and friends (no smothering over-protectiveness here), they are surprised, after a day's journey, to discover that the child is not among them.

Finally, after three days of searching for him "with great anxiety," Jesus confronts them with a statement that would carry little consolation for any parent: "Why did you search for me? Did you not know I had to be en tois tou patros mou?" I quote those last words in Luke's Greek because it is one of those places where the Third Evangelist seems deliberately to be using ambiguous language. A literal rendering would be "in the [things] of my Father," which commentators have mainly taken to mean "about the affairs of my father" (referring to action) or "in the house of my father" (referring to a place).

The mysterious openness of the phrase leaves one thing crystal clear, Jesus' life involves an obedience to more than earthly parents. Mary has just referred to Joseph as Jesus' father, but Jesus uses the word pater of the Creator. Yet, Luke hastens to show that doing the will of his heavenly Father entailed obedience to Mary and Joseph: "He went down with them, and came to Nazareth, and was obedient to them."

Sunday's Readings

First:
1 Samuel 1:20-22, 24-28

Second:
1 John 3:1-2, 21-24

Gospel:
Luke 2:41-52

As exceptional as these things may be—the birth of septuplets and the unique family relationships of Jesus—both the Des Moines story and the Lucan episode remind us that being family is an intimate involvement with the divine—more challenging than we expect, more promising than we could hope for. And we always need outside help.

THIS WEEK'S REFLECTIONS

THE HOLY FAMILY OF JESUS, MARY & JOSEPH

December 26 — Bless the children: Holy families aren't necessarily picture-perfect. But they are faithful and consistent in their values and goals. Like Mary and Joseph and biblical parents before them, holy families consecrate their children early and often to the care of God. They do this by baptizing them and seeing to their sacramental preparation. They do this by praying for and with their little ones. They provide them a religious education and share faith-filled practices of compassion and charity. All the children in our lives look to us for love and acceptance, guidance and Christian example. Teach the children well.

FEAST OF JOHN, APOSTLE AND EVANGELIST

December 27 — He lived to tell the tale: John the Apostle is credited with being the author of the Gospel of John. He is also believed to have been the "Beloved Disciple" of Jesus mentioned in that gospel and is presumed to have outlived the other apostles, perhaps being the only one to die of natural causes rather than martyrdom. Imagine being the last survivor, and the heartache he endured on losing his peers to violent deaths for their faith. Perhaps it was John's job to live to tell the story—"that you may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that believing you may have life in his name"—as he says in his final line. Take John's mission to heart and embrace his good word today.

FEAST OF THE HOLY INNOCENTS, MARTYRS

December 28 — Children deserve protection: Nowadays when we think of Christmas pageants, we envision adorable children in bathrobes dressed as shepherds. But in the Middle Ages, religious pageants were a serious business. The whole community gathered to enact mystery plays that told the stories of birth, death, resurrection, and the lives of the saints. It's from such a mystery play that we get the haunting words and melody of "The Coventry Carol"—a song about King Herod's slaughter of the Holy Innocents that asks plaintively, "What may we do to preserve . . . this poor youngling for whom we sing?" Pray today for children who continue to suffer and face certain death without our help.
