BE IN IT TO WIN IT!

See Page 6 of this Bulletin for more information, a 2023 Jackpot Calendar, and an Entry Form. Additional Entry Forms are available in the rear of the Church and in the Rectory Office.

A REQUEST FROM HOLY NAME OF JESUS PARISH

"As each one has received a gift, use it to serve one another as good stewards of God's varied grace." (1 Peter 4:10)

With so much uncertainty in the world, the resolve of our priests and religious, ministers and teachers, and all people of faith has only grown stronger in Brooklyn and Queens, but so have the needs.

More than ever, we need your help to spread the light of Christ to our city and neighbors by giving to the 2023 Annual Catholic Appeal. Your participation joins you in faith with others in the Church to do good works during challenging times in new innovative ways:

- Connecting our young people to the Church
- Feeding the hungry
- Visiting the sick and imprisoned
- Giving shelter to the homeless
- Welcoming the stranger
- Caring for the elderly
- Sharing our faith
- Educating the young
- Forming deacons and priests

The work you support with a donation to the Appeal goes beyond the abilities of any one parish while benefiting the faithful in all parishes including Holy Name of Jesus Parish where we use all "over-Diocesan goal" dollars we receive back to reduce our still large debt obligation.

As a committed parishioner, friend, and Catholic, we need your support to uphold our mission. We are grateful to the 48 people who have already made a generous commitment to the 2023 Annual Catholic Appeal and we ask others to join them.

Parish Goal: $55,623 Amount Paid thus far: $42,602

You may make your gift online now at annualcatholicappeal.org or text ACA to 917-336-1255 or call 718-965-7375 ext. 1602 and have a pledge card mailed to your home.

Suggested giving amounts:

- $100 pledge
- $200 pledge = $25 a month
- $350 pledge = $10 a week
- $1,200 pledge = $5 a day

Annual Catholic Appeal 2023

A NOTE FROM FR LARRY

During this Season of Easter, we've been privileged to have four young children baptized here in Holy Name Church. Deacon Gerry Devine baptized Gabriel Gonzalo Gonzalez on Saturday, April 29. Last Saturday, May 13, he baptized Edward Robert Carroll, Javi John Perez-Duffy, and Alice Grace Snare Medford. We welcome "G", Teddy, Javi and Ali as our newest Catholic Christians. Congratulations to them, their parents, and all their loved ones.

From time-to-time, Currents News, the nightly news program on the Brooklyn Diocese's NET cable TV station, broadcasts a segment entitled "Pulse of the Parish". As that title suggests, each of those segments highlights a lay parishioner whose voluntary efforts are key to the life of a particular parish. Last Friday, Currents staff came to Holy Name of Jesus parish to interview and film Nick Sisto. Many of you know Nick who is a third generation Holy Name parishioner, chairperson of our Parish Council and our Buildings Committee, one of the leaders in the 2013-2014 Church Renovation project, and coordinator of the Lector and Extraordinary Minister of Holy Communion ministries. He also frequently serves as Master of Ceremonies at our more complex liturgies. Nick certainly is a "pulse" of HNJ Parish and a great example of putting one's faith into action. The segment is tentatively scheduled to be shown on May 31. We'll advise you when the broadcast details become firm.

At Masses this weekend (May 21/22), we will make our "In-Pew Request" for pledges to the 2023 Annual Catholic Appeal. On the previous page of this bulletin, you will see information about the various Diocesan-wide ministries and activities that receive critical support from the Appeal. Note especially how much the Appeal does to help the poor and the marginalized. You will also see information about how ACA donations received above the Diocesan goal come back to the parish, where here in HNJ parish they are used to reduce debt. Finally, you will see that we not yet met our Diocesan goal. Our current number of donors (87) is 101 fewer than the number of ACA donors we had last year. Please help the Diocese (especially the Diocese's poor and marginalized) and our Holy Name Parish by making a pledge if you have not already done so. As always, thank you and God bless you for your generosity.

We are looking forward to Pentecost Weekend (May 27/28) when HNJ parishioner Edwin Arguera will be ordained a Permanent Deacon and when two other parishioners will receive the sacrament of Confirmation. But this weekend (the 7th Sunday of Easter), the Readings have a lot to do with prayer. Through May 27, we will continue to pray a Pre-Pentecost Novena (centered around the simple "Come Holy Spirit" prayer) at our morning Masses. If you cannot join us at Mass, please say a prayer on your own for the guidance and encouragement of the Holy Spirit in all things. ✞

Looking More Closely at the Word

Fully Alive

by Fr. Gregory Peterson, O.P.

The glory of God is a human being fully alive,' says St Irenaeus in a passage of his voluminous treatise Against the Heresies. It's a quotation that's perhaps overused – even misused, on occasion – and clearly no one phrase can successfully sum up the whole significance of Christianity, but its power lies is in its ability to capture in a few words something central to what Christians believe. One might even go so far as to say it was a distillation of the dynamic being expressed in Jesus' prayer to the Father on the eve of his Passion which we read in today's Gospel. In order to see how that claim might be justified, though, we need to use the words of the Gospel to try and understand the point St Irenaeus is making.

There are a couple of ways in which the phrase can easily be misunderstood, and it's from these two aspects that we can begin exploring its meaning. First of all, it can sound like St Irenaeus is suggesting that God's glory somehow depends on the existence of human beings; that clearly can't be the case, so there must be some other sense in which this very strong claim of identity – 'the glory of God is a human being fully alive', not even just 'can be seen in' – should be understood. We also need to be careful of the rather slippery meaning of the phrase 'fully alive': after all, it can call to mind transitory adrenaline-filled experiences, and yet surely St Irenaeus was not saying that God's glory is especially visible in people who live on the edge. What does it really mean for someone to be fully alive?

In fact, the answer to both these difficulties of interpretation is the same, and that answer is Jesus. How is it true that the glory of God is a human being fully alive? Because Jesus is a human being and Jesus is God, incarnate in our world, showing to us, as he prayed at the Last Supper (Jn 17:1), the glory of the Father with whom he is one. What does a human being fully alive look like? Jesus, who is so alive that even though he died, he now lives. On the cross, as he breathes his last, Jesus says, 'it is finished' (Jn 19:30); this is the completion of the work the Father gave him (Jn 17:4) which glorifies God on earth as, through his death, the power of his divine life is revealed.

That, of course, is already amazing enough: God has taken on our human nature, and in that human nature has died, risen and ascended into heaven so that a human being is glorified with the glory the Son had with the Father before ever the world was (cf Jn 17:5). If we were to leave things there, though, it might seem like we had rather weakened the force of St Irenaeus' striking claim: it would mean that when he spoke of 'a human being fully alive', we were understanding him to mean a particular human being – Jesus – who is fully alive rather than any fully alive human being.

In Jesus' prayer in our Gospel passage, however, it is clear that he gives eternal life (and what is the fullness of life, if not life without limit?) to his disciples, and because they share in this life, which is his, they are so closely united with him that his glory is manifested in them (Jn 17:4,10). The fullness of human life is 'to know you, the true God, and Jesus Christ whom you have sent' (Jn 17:3), and this is only possible by being drawn – through Jesus – into the very life of God.

Both this Gospel passage, then, in richness of Jesus' high priestly prayer, and St Irenaeus' statement with its striking and succinct immediacy speak of the awesome hope which lies at the centre of Christianity: that because Jesus and the Father are one, and Jesus has shared his life with us, we may live with the very life of God.
